

My Magnificent Mother

My Mom is the best mother ever! She can do it all! My Mother can cook, clean, play like no other Mother can. Why is she so good? Nobody knows. But we all know that she works her tail off day and night. How can we give back to her? We can start by obeying her. Then we can see whatever she needs us to do. Then we can ask my Dad if he will take her out on a date. After all she deserves it. She works her bottom off day and night, so of course she deserves it. There are pros and cons to her going out. A pro is that I get to have good food. A con is that I have to babysit kids, but they usually go out at night. So it's not much of a con to me. They usually go to Olive Garden, which has VERY good bread. I sometimes keep it for tomorrow. But most of the time not so much. My Mom can do it all! Well at least most of it.

My Moms cooking..... where should I start? She can cook almost anything. You ask for it, she'll find a way to cook it. Everything that she cooks and creates is a masterpiece. She can eyeball every ingredient. The only thing she can't make right is Macaroni & Cheese, but that's my job. She almost ALAWYS overcooks the noodles. But besides that she can make anything she wants. One time she made us lasagna and I think I forgot to chew. It was so good. It melted into my mouth. She can make even BETTER food for other people. It's like she added a secret ingredient to make it taste a lot better? Why don't we Mom? Ha-ha, I know she loves us more, but she likes giving the best of the best to friends in need, and I agree with that. Jesus first, others second, yourself third.

Our house is easily cleaned in at most two hours. When we all work together it gets done quickly. We all get assigned jobs and we get it done, doing little things along the way. I usually get the jobs like doing the dishes, washing the floor, or cleaning the family room. Whatever the job is, she will get it done. How? Because we have teamwork. We can focus on an objective and get it done. She is like a famous general leading her troops into battle. We fight for what's right. If that may be food, so be it. How does she do it? First of all, she our mom she has absolute authority whether we like it or not. She may not know everything, but she knows everything that is important to our wellbeing.

When my Mother plays old NES games, she plays like there's no tomorrow. She know every nook and cranny in Mario 3. She knows every cave and castle in The Original Zelda, and she took a little interest into Zelda: Twilight Princess. She said they have changed it to much. My Mom is not much of a modern gamer, but when she does she sure does know how to. We know a lot of the things about Mom. But we will never know it all, and that's ok. We don't need to know her intentions, what we need to know is that she will always have the best intentions for us, and that she will look out for us. As long as she knows what's best for us. We don't have to worry about anything.

My Mother actually went to school. Whoa! Her least favorite teacher was her 2nd grade teacher. They called her Mrs. Register. She evidently looked much like a witch. She liked her 3rd grade teacher the most. Her name was Mrs. Leanne Johnson. She was young and beautiful. My mom has decided that she wanted to have us homeschooled. And I absolutely agree with her. I think it's a lot more fun and entertaining. We get to pick and choose our curriculum. We get to study what we want to study (With Moms input of course) But the part I love about it most is that I am my own teacher (again with moms consent) My Mom can teach all the middles at the same time, while nursing the baby at the same time. Name another mom that can do that!

My mom knows how to care for us and teach us all. We are sometime a pain in the bottom, but my Mom has had a TON of experience and knows exactly what to do, even when she doesn't. She has a natural sense of what happens around the house. Its like she has cameras all over the house. She is for sure a caring mother!

Reply to: mitchell252@hotmail.com