Harriet Beecher Stowe

American author of Uncle Tom’s Cabin.

Uncle Tom’s Cabin is an anti-slavery novel published in 1852.

Abraham Lincoln said of her, “So this is the little lady that started this big war.”

One heart moving theme in her novel was the comparison of how slave mothers felt when their sons were sold to other owners and how she felt when her son died.