

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

Color in the phones next to the TRUE statements.

Alexander Graham Bell was born in Scotland.

His father was deaf.

He attended school for 12 years.

He opened a school for teachers of the deaf.

The company he formed was called Bell-Watson Cellular.

Alexander Graham Bell worked with Thomas Watson on inventions like the telephone.

No one else was trying to patent a device like the telephone at that time.

Alexander Graham Bell also started the National Geographic Society.

He enjoyed making and flying kites.