Irony is when something is the opposite of what you would expect. A fire station catching on fire would be ironic. A murderer getting the death sentence as a punishment is ironic.

An oxymoron is when two contradictory terms are used together. Some examples are jumbo shrimp, act naturally, only choice, alone together.

Can you think of other examples of irony or oxymorons?