Daily Progress Chart

How to use this course:

Every day you will click on the first grammar link below and do the next lesson given in the list on the site. When you get to the quiz, take that instead of doing a new lesson. You will then do a daily editing activity, the second link below. These can be printed ahead of time if you like, or the student can just write down the edits in a notebook and then check the work when complete. The answers are on the same page, just further down. Finally, the students will write each day. This will start off slowly and then build up. The early writing activities are to help overcome writer's block and the stress of starting writing. Getting started can be the hardest part.
